Emel Mathlouthi

Emel Mathlouthi also known as Emel is a Tunisian singer songwriter best known for her protest song Kelmti Horra ("My Word is Free") which became an anthem for the Tunisian revolution and the Arab spring. Her first studio album, also titled Kelmti Horra, was released worldwide by Harmonia Mundi in 2012 to critical acclaim. Her second album, Emen, was released by Parisian Records in 2017, also to considerable acclaim. Mathlouthi is often referred to as the 'Voice of Tunisian Revolution' due to her song 'Kelmti Horra'.

Elektra Wintour

Actress Dominique Jackson

Elektra Wintour is a fictive Character in the series Pose, an American drama television series about New York City's African-American and Latino LGBTQ and gender nonconforming drag ball culture scene in the 1980s and in the early 1990s. Featured characters are dancers and models who compete for trophies and recognition in this underground culture, and who support one another in a network of chosen families known as Houses. Elektra Abundance Wintour is the former shrewd house mother and reigning champion within the ballrooms. Establishing her name and taking in the newest face Blanca Rodriguez she develops her own House of Abundance, continuing to show her talents through many categories she and her children walked.
